

Steve Craig Biography

Encouraged by his grandmothers, both of whom have deep Virginia roots, Steve Craig began researching his family history in 1975 at the age of eleven. Nearly five decades later, after retiring from the insurance business, Craig is now a full-time family historian, genealogist and storyteller who shares his discoveries through his blog entitled A Son of Virginia (<https://asonofvirginia.blog/>). He is also the compiler and author of Along the Willis River: Descendants of Nathaniel & Nancy (Jeffries) Morris of Buckingham County, Virginia. A lifelong Virginian, Craig was born and raised in Yorktown, Virginia and graduated from James Madison University with a bachelor's degree in business administration and a minor in history. He and his wife of 33 years, Brenda Craig, are longtime residents of Henrico County and have two sons Adam and Alex Craig.
